

More Atomic Tests Slated in Nevada

By RALPH DIGHTON

CAMP MERCURY, Nev. (AP) — Military scientists scheduled two above-ground nuclear blasts today, the first atmospheric shots here since 1958—amid unfounded reports that troops are en route for a battlefield test early next week.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Pentagon refused to say anything about the reported movement of troops, but dozens of tanks were observed on flatcars rolling through nearby Las Vegas Friday.

The shots planned for today were described as low yield devices, to be detonated only a few feet from the ground. Low yield indicates an explosive power of 20 kilotons—equal to 20,000 tons of TNT—or less.

The United States has announced 42 underground nuclear explosions at the Nevada test site since the resumption of testing last September, including Friday's 100-kiloton hydrogen blast.

Today's devices are the first to be exploded above ground this year, however, since this nation, the Soviet Union and Great Britain agreed to halt nuclear testing Oct. 31, 1958. The agreement was broken by the Soviet Union, and both that country and the United States have been holding atmospheric tests in the Pacific.

Secrecy shrouded today's activities. All roads onto the site were closed. The military nature of the shots was indicated by a statement that the Department of Defense, not the AEC, would conduct varied experiments to analyze the effects of nuclear explosions.

One of the devices was described as a weapon—possibly a forerunner of the test set for next week. The AEC said radio activity from the shots would be monitored at distances up to 300 miles, but predicted that off-site radiation would be well within established ranges.

Something Done About Traffic Jam

WASHINGTON (AP)—In Washington, almost everybody talks about the traffic jams. Sen. Wayne Morse did something about one the other day.

The Oregon Democrat hit a bottleneck last Monday on busy Massachusetts Avenue at the height of the morning rush hour. The stopper, he found, was a district highway worker painting a crosswalk. A barricade halted traffic in the left lane, while cars cruising along the inside lane swept past bumper to bumper.

Morse suggested the highway worker could ease the jam by directing the traffic so that cars in the two lanes could take turns getting past the barricade. "The painter replied it wasn't his job."

So Morse headed for the District Building—Washington's city hall—and complained to Highway Director Harold L. Aitken.

Aitken called the painter on the carpet, transferred him to a job which won't involve contact with the public, and reminded street-painting supervisors that they aren't supposed to be painting during the rush hours.

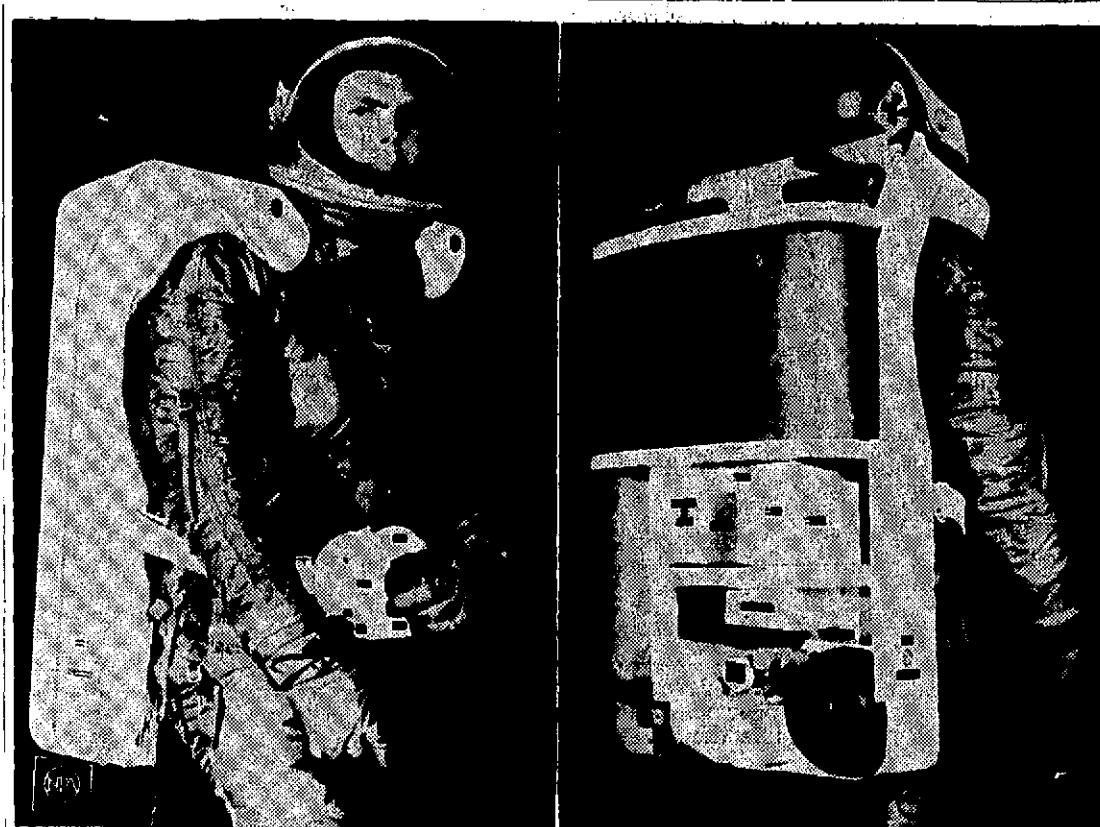

"We can't have a public relations man on every job in the city," Aitken said Thursday, "but all of us should do our best for the people we are serving."

Newport to Vote on City Manager

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — The Newport City Council Thursday night voted to favor the city manager form of government, but the action does not mean an election is to be called. The calling of an election for the city manager form is at the mayor's discretion unless he is petitioned by 50 per cent of the voters in the last general election, the council said. Such petitions have been being circulated in the town, the council added. Mayor T. J. Walden has said he is against the manager form of government. Newport now has a mayor and 10 aldermen.

Weather

Clear to partly cloudy and continued hot today and tonight with isolated afternoon and evening thundershowers. Sunday, cloudy and hot.

OUTBOARD ASTRONAUT—A compact space pack has been designed which almost converts an astronaut in a pressure suit into a one-man spaceship. W. J. North, pilot for Ling-Temco-Vought, wears a mock-up of the pack, left. The pack would operate with hydrogen peroxide jets and is designed to position and stabilize a crewman or astronaut during operations outside a spaceship. It would permit him to transfer from one vehicle to another and to act as a human tug for moving large sections of spacecraft being constructed in orbit. The pack is shown, right, with its cover off. Upper section contains four-hour life support system (oxygen, etc.). Jets and fuel supply are in the bottom half.

Two Youths Spanked by Policeman

WHITING, Ind. (AP)—Three youths, among nine who were given unusual punishments Thursday by City Judge William Obermiller, were spanked by two policemen and a bailiff.

Each youth got 15 solid whacks, as ordered by the judge. They stood before the judge as the policemen and a court bailiff administered the spankings with their hands on the seats of the teenagers' pants.

Some 350 persons who jammed the courtroom witnessed the spankings given to Steve Shorr, 16; Peter Welcome 17; and James Hunt, 16. They, with Daniel M. Cardona, 15, had been convicted of drinking beer and brandy at the Whiting Beach on June 18.

In addition to the spankings, Judge Obermiller ordered shaven heads and beach cleanup orders, and writing and studying for examinations on the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

The three youths who were spanked also were ordered to have their hair cut not more than a half inch high and help clean up Whiting Beach each Saturday until Labor Day. They will be joined at the beach by five other youths who received similar sentences from the judge last Tuesday and two others Thursday night.

Cardona was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $5. Obermiller said Cardona had been before him for intoxication previously.

Obermiller, an elected city court judge, has been on the bench about two years.

Deartment Store Sales Jum

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended June 30 shot up 15 per cent above those of the similar week in 1961.

The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis said sales in St. Louis and Louisville were each four per cent above those of last year. Memphis climbed 11 per cent and sales in seven smaller district cities rose 13 per cent.

The only area to report a drop in sales—three per cent—was Little Rock.

District sales for the four week ended June 30 were three per cent above those of last year. Sales in the district to date are five per cent above last year.

Burial Ground on Crowley's Ridge

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—A Forrest City college student has found a five-acre Indian burial ground on Crowley's Ridge near Big Eddy.

The student, Rush Harris, said indications the ground once belonged to a Quapaw tribe.

Harris, who lives with his parents near the site, said he has found a number of skeletons and a lot of pottery.

Harris, an agriculture major at Arkansas State College, spends most of his spare time at home digging for more artifacts.

Cotton Chopper Dies in Field

MANILA, Ark. (AP) — Charles Larkin, 62-year-old cotton chopper, collapsed and died in a cotton field near Manila Thursday.

Authorities said he apparently died of a heat stroke.

Sheriff Lee Baker said Larkin collapsed while walking across a field on the George Morgan farm in the Floodway Community. Temperatures have been near 100 in the area during the past few days. Larkin, Baker said, had told farmers he had worked in Arizona and had a family in Nebraska, but had not seen them in 12 years.

Compromise in Doctor's Strike Likely

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—Saskatchewan's deputy premier said the provincial government is determined to continue its compulsory medical care plan but a hint of compromise appeared as a doctors' strike went into its sixth day today.

Deputy Premier J. H. Brockelbank told a news conference here that the provincial cabinet might consider calling the legislature into session, perhaps to act on amendments which would allow doctors to practice outside the health act.

"If there was satisfactory evidence a special session would do some positive good, it would receive favorable consideration by the provincial cabinet," he said.

In another hint of conciliation, Brockelbank disclosed that Premier Woodrow S. Lloyd was in eastern Canada on a secret mission. He did not reject a possibility that Lloyd's mission might deal with mediation.

The Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons has rejected mediation as unworkable now, with feelings running high. Dr. Sam Landa, emergency coordinator for the Canadian Medical Commission, said in Saskatchewan that emergency services have begun to shrink.

He reported 3 of the 240 doctors who volunteered service when the strike began have quit and the others are spread very thinly.

A self-styled Citizens' Safety Committee in Regina ordered the striking doctors to resume practice by today or face reprisals. Police patrols were reinforced to forestall violence to the doctors or their families.

More than 60 doctors have quit Saskatchewan in recent weeks. The provincial plan permits free choice of doctors and requires every resident of the province to contribute to the cost through payroll deductions and general taxes.

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — White County deputy sheriff Benson Robbins said Thursday Johnny Alfred Redding, 29, whose body was found on U.S. Highway 64 near Beebe Wednesday, probably stumbled into the path of a fast-moving vehicle.

Redding's body was found with the back of his head crushed in Robbins said there were no skid marks at the scene and that the driver of the vehicle that hit Redding probably was unaware of what happened.

Troops Force Calm in Brazil Area

By TOM MASTERSON

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Tanks and troops enforced calm on nearby Duque de Caxias today after frenzied mobs shouting "we want food" plundered more than 100 stores in a running fight with police and shopkeepers.

Mayor Adolfo Daci said 15 persons were killed and more than 100 injured before units of the 1st army quelled the rioting and sacking in that city of some 80,000 about 10 miles northwest of Rio. Two other persons were reported killed in similar but less violent food riots in the Rio suburbs of Sao Joao do Meriti and Nova Iguaçu.

The riots erupted during a general strike called by union leaders demanding the formation of a popular nationalist government to settle the governmental stalemate between leftist President Joao Goulart and the conservative-dominated Parliament.

After conferring with Goulart, the union leaders called a halt to the strike last night. But union chiefs in Goulart's home state of Rio Grande do Sul rejected a plea from Gov. Leonel Brizola, Goulart's brother-in-law and declared a new work stoppage today.

The food riots stemmed from the government's attempt to control prices on such staples as beans, flour, rice, sugar and salt in the face of the nation's spiraling inflation. Storeowners have been withholding their ample supplies of these items in hopes of getting higher prices later.

Long lines of housewives have formed in front of Rio stores this week as food supplies dwindled. Early this week 20 persons were injured in a food riot in the suburb of Niteroi.

Army troops already had been alerted for trouble during the general strike, which virtually shut down Rio. No planes, buses, trains or ferries moved. Most industries, banks, offices and shops were shut tight.

The strike was less effective in other cities. The stoppage originally had been called to protest the naming of Sen. Auro de Moura Andrade, a conservative, as prime minister instead of a member of Goulart's Brazilian labor party.

After only 36 hours in office Andrade quit on the eve of the strike, reportedly in a dispute with Goulart over the selection of navy and air force ministers for the new cabinet. Despite the resignation, the union leaders went ahead with the strike to try to pressure Parliament into naming a member of Goulart's party to pressure Parliament into naming a member of Goulart's party to the prime minister's job.

W. Memphis Gets Police Dog.

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—Mayor Howell B. Price says the West Memphis police dog squad will remain at half the authorized strength for the present.

The Police Department bought one dog last week and assigned it to Lt. Bobby Keen, who is now training it.

The dog squad originally was planned for two dogs but Price said Thursday, "We will wait and see how this dog works out after training."

Admissions of Bribery Spur Estes Probe

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dramatic confessions of two federal farm aid officials that they accepted money from a Billie Sol Estes emissary spurred wider ranging investigations today on several fronts.

On the verge of tears, Louis N. Dumas, 52, and Arthur Daniel Stone, 55, top officials of the McIntosh County, Okla., Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), admitted Friday that they had received $1,640 from an agent of the Billie Sol Estes enterprises last summer.

They said they had lied about it under oath and had reported none of the money on their income tax returns.

Both men said they are amending their tax returns belatedly, and both tried to resign. But Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman rejected the resignations and suspended them instead—the start of a move to slam down bars against permitting either man ever again to be restored to the agency's payroll.

Although county officials, they drew their salaries—estimated at $6,000 to $8,000 a year—from the federal government.

It was not indicated immediately if any criminal action would be brought against Dumas and Stone.

The confessions of the veteran officials, ending careers that began in the 1930s, came as the Senate Investigations subcommittee rounded out another week of hearings aimed at finding any evidence of influence dealings connected with Estes' big money manipulations under farm aid programs.

Dumas and Stone's testimony was reported on Capitol Hill to have stirred more investigating activity along similar lines by the Agriculture Department's investigating staff, the Justice Department and congressional probers themselves.

The subcommittee is inquiring at the moment into profitable deals by Estes in allegedly illegal transfers of cotton acreage allotments from other states to his own lands in Texas.

Just what Dumas and Stone did in return for the money they said the Estes enterprises paid them remained obscure.

Parnell E. Biggerstaff, a former agent for Estes, testified he paid them for providing valuable information to help him in the allotment deals or Estes. Dumas and Stone said they gave him no information they wouldn't have given to anyone else. Biggerstaff, on the one hand, and the two officials on the other, disagreed as to who had made the first overture for the payments.

Tax Liens $3 Million on Bookmaker

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Tax liens totaling $3,395,665.33 were filed today by the federal government against bookmaker Joseph (Newsboy) Moriarty.

Chris L. Gross, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, said at Newark the liens were filed in Hudson and Essex counties.

Gross said the total figure covers a six-year period and includes income taxes, fraud penalties and interest.

Moriarty, serving a 2-to-3 year sentence in State Prison at Trenton, has been tabbed by Jersey City police as the owner of a $2.4 million hoard found in an abandoned car Tuesday.

Together with the money, police found bonds in the names of Moriarty and his brother, who died five years ago.

Moriarty has neither affirmed nor denied ownership of the fortune in currency ranging from $5 to $1,000 bills. He has a long record of arrests as a numbers lottery operator.

Moriarty's income for each year from 1956 through 1961 was estimated at $400,000 annually by the Internal Revenue Service. He paid only a nominal amount each year.

The tax liens were announced after the Justice Department indicated it would claim the $2.4 million cache.

Moriarty refused Thursday to discuss ownership of the treasure with an FBI agent, and authorities said his girl friend, red-haired Anna Petrick, also was silent.

July 8 Is Significant Day in American History... the Day the Liberty Bell Told

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Of all the American ideals, perhaps the one that is mentioned most often and most clearly symbolizes our land is Liberty.

Patrick Henry cried, "Give me Liberty or give me Death." Washington said, "Love of liberty needs no recommendations, because it is in the hearts of all;" and Lincoln spoke of this nation as "conceived in liberty."

At this time of year we are reminded often of our heritage of liberty wisely constructed in documents by our founding fathers and bravely defended by generations of Americans who cherish this ideal. On Wednesday we celebrated Independence Day with the usual fun and festivities, but another anniversary is seldom recognized and, nevertheless, occurs tomorrow, July 8.

That is the anniversary of the Liberty Bell in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, Pa., when it was used to announce the adoption of the Declaration of Independence. Just what is this Liberty for which the bell was rung on July 8, 1776?

It doesn't mean "doing just as we please," because that would often make another man's liberty impossible. We could modify the definition to read "doing as one's conscience and desires tell him to do so long as it does not interfere with the equal rights of others."

There are several kinds of liberty, personal, national, civil, political and religious. The first is the most easily understood, for it simply means freedom of thought, word and action. Independence is another name for national liberty or freedom from oppression and tyrannical control. Complications sometimes arise over the next liberty, civil.

Civil liberty is the right to be free from interference by the government with one's private conduct, as long as that conduct does not menace other people. (In a way, we are forced to have an ounce or two of Christian thoughtfulness, or, as it has been said, our heritage of freedom means more a "responsibility" than a "right to.") Political liberty, the right to have a share and interest in one's government and religious liberty, the right to worship God as one pleases, completes our list of liberties.

There is a flaw, or crack, in our Liberty Bell which is symbolic, if we think about it. For our nation and its people also have flaws, but like the bell we are basically strong. All have withstood the tests of time and have remained strong despite our imperfections. The Liberty Bell, Symbol of America, is a constant reminder of our heritage.

Ex-Convict Is Sought for Assault

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock authorities said Thursday they are searching for a 38-year-old ex-convict in connection with the criminal assault on a 12-year-old girl.

Prosecutor John T. Jernigan said the assault occurred Wednesday when the girl was admitted by a painter to a cafe that was closed for the July 4 holiday.

Jernigan said on basis of testimony by the girl and her parents and a medical examination, he had issued a warrant for arrest of the man.

Jernigan said he was told by the girl that she went to the cafe to get some candy, but found the place closed. A man inside painting inside the store admitted her, then held her captive for five hours and assaulted her twice. Jernigan said he was told one of the attacks was made in the cafe, the other in a wooded area outside the city.

The attacker, Jernigan said he was told, drove the girl back to a few blocks from her home to release her. The girl, he said, identified photos of the ex-convict and the cafe owner had identified the same photo as that of a man he had hired to do painting.

Wants Resignation of Club Head

DES ARC, Ark. (AP) — The president of the Arkansas Women's Democratic Clubs called Thursday for resignation of the president of the Craighead County Women's Democratic Club who has taken a job in Gov. Orval E. Faubus' campaign headquarters.

Mrs. Clara Mae Brown of Des Arc, the state resident, said Mrs. Howard Perry of Bay, the Craighead president, had agreed to resign.

Mrs. Brown said that as a Democratic Party organization, the women's clubs are not supposed to take sides in primary elections and members are not allowed to use their club affiliation if they do campaign actively.

An announcement from Faubus' headquarters Thursday listed Mrs. Perry as an office worker and identified her as president of the Craighead County club.

Japs See No Gain in Plant Investment

By ALAN CLINE

TOKYO (AP)—Industrialists and government officials today greeted with pessimism the Kennedy administration proposal that Japanese industries invest in factories in the United States.

The consensus appeared to be: What would be gained by moving into a high-wage labor market when we have comparatively low wages here at home?

"We could not compete with American industry because of their highly advanced situation," declared Toshiya Hiramatsu, an executive of the huge Mitsui Petrochemicals Industries, Ltd. "We would rather stress increasing exports than build factories in the States."

The U.S. government had suggested foreign investment in building U.S. factories as a means to improve America's balance of payments and to create job opportunities in certain areas.

But the Japanese pointed out that they too have an adverse balance of payment situation, a problem of more dollars going out than coming in.

Shigeru Sasaki, a spokesman for the huge Hitachi Manufacturing Co., electrical equipment, said the lower wage paid by the Japanese was the key to their survival in international competition.

He expressed hope the United States would ease its immigration laws to permit entry of Japanese workers. U.S. Embassy sources here, however, stressed the Kennedy administration proposal includes no easing of any existing barriers.

Nagato Kobayashi, of the Matsushita Electrical Co., which has a sales firm in New York City, said "If the proposed areas are appropriate enough for industry, American industries would have built their factories there long ago."

Areas mentioned as possible for foreign investments sites included Maine, New Jersey, North Carolina, Kansas and the West Coast.

Will Review All Buying by Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, apparently impatient with results so far, has ordered a critical review of all military buying abroad to see how much could be shifted to the United States.

The prod order was disclosed by a Pentagon spokesman. Sources indicated McNamara is dissatisfied with progress to date toward cutting at least a billion dollars a year from the roughly $3 billion a year which military-related spending overseas has contributed to the gold-dollar drain.

What McNamara ordered, in effect, in his new directive was careful scrutiny of all proposed military spending overseas, apparently to apply, among other things, to controversial purchases of foreign steel by the Navy.

During the first 10 months of the 1962 fiscal year, the Navy bought $1,339,151 worth of steel from foreign mills.

It contends it has done so because German and Japanese bids were lower than U.S. bids even after checking on certain differentials intended to favor American steel manufacturers.

Senate Okay to Health Bill Is Predicted

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sponsors of President Kennedy's social security health care plan for the elderly predicted today it would pass the Senate by next Wednesday or Thursday.

Their confidence was bolstered by a voice vote defeat Friday of a Republican substitute in the first voting test—but not a very conclusive one—on the strongly disputed legislation. Only about 15 senators were present at the time.

The substitute was offered by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky. He proposed that the program be financed from general revenues of the treasury and provide federal payments for private health insurance premiums for persons over 65.

Democratic leaders originally had pushed for passage of the administration plan this week. But their hopes were dashed by absenteeism over the Fourth of July holiday and determined opposition from foes of any Social Security approach.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he probably would be willing to consider a limitation on debate by next Wednesday. Dirksen blocked such a time limit Thursday, contending there was a need for further discussion.

Sponsors of the administration proposal agreed Friday in response to reporters' queries that the plan also would raise the minimum Social Security retirement payment.

The reason is that one method of obtaining additional revenue in the Kennedy plan is to raise from $4,800 to $5,200 the annual base on which Social Security taxes are paid.

This would boost the funds available for retirement payments since the portion of the Social Security taxes used for this purpose would also be applied to the additional $400 base.

Thus the present $127 monthly maximum for an individual would be raised to $134, and the payment for a man and wife from $191 to $201.

The GOP substitute defeated Friday was offered by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky. When Morton's proposal came up he did not ask for a recorded vote and his amendment went down on a voice vote.

Rail Union Heads Reject U. S. Offer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The heads of five railroad unions rejected today a government offer to arbitrate the deadlocked dispute over the number of men to operate the nation's trains.

The head of the five unions, representing some 200,000 on-train employees, sent a letter to the National Mediation Board saying the unions did not think all areas had been fully explored in negotiations in Chicago two weeks ago, and said the board's offer of arbitration was premature. The railroads walked out of the talks in Chicago saying further negotiations were useless.

"The railroads have demanded changes to eliminate alleged featherbedding by eliminating jobs they say are not necessary. Despite the action of the operating unions, there was no immediate threat of a strike. There is a 30-day cooling off period before the unions legally can strike."

President Kennedy could delay a walkout by another 60 days by naming an emergency board to recommend a settlement.

A presidential commission previously recommended a settlement involving elimination of 40,000 freight train firemen and broad leeway for the railroads to make other manpower economies.

The railroads last week accepted the government proposal to arbitrate the dispute, but acceptance of both sides is needed.

Market Slumps After Advances

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market went into a steep decline Friday afternoon after running up a string of five sharp advances. Prices were knocked down in the first hour of trading and then slipped lower.

Wall Street sources didn't seem surprised at the reversal. Profits were being taken from recent gains and the usual preweekend caution dried up buying demand. The clean-cut advance began June 28 after the market had reached the low-point of a seven-month decline. Averages were higher the previous day, but individual declines outnumbered advances, leaving the market mixed. Trading was active today and the ticker tape fell behind floor transactions sporadically. The setback covered steel, motors, rails, oils, chemicals, tobacco, electrical equipments and aerospace issues.

Kennedy May Visit in West

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is considering what the White House calls a nonpolitical trip West in August.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said today that if he goes, Kennedy would inspect a number of reclamation projects.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California said Thursday after calling on Kennedy that the President wanted to make a Western tour this summer and might participate in ground-breaking ceremonies at a reservoir project in his state's Central Valley.

Kennedy has said he will campaign later this year. California is one of the states in which he most likely would take the stump. Brown is opposed for re-election by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

DOROTHY DIX

Hue and Cry!

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Q. You're wrong about gambling. Having relatives who gamble I know that gambling can make an addict out of a person just as narcotics does. It is almost impossible for them to quit once they get the fever.

After reading your advice to the girl who wrote about her boy friend playing cards for money, I decided you should read David Allen's book, "Nature of Gambling." You said to the girl, "He'll be gone forever if you try to reform him." I'd say, "Good riddance, let him go. If he doesn't have the will to quit, he'll make poor husband material."

To class card playing or any other game of chance with buying and selling stock shows a misunderstanding of the investment business. A gambler seeks to get profit without giving any tangible goods in return, while buying and selling stock involves the trading of tangible goods. It is in the same class of business as that of a merchant. Whether business is being done in merchandise, real estate or stocks, tangible goods are being bought and sold for the purpose of realizing a legitimate income. —Frances Meyers, Sunnydale, Calif.

Dear Miss Meyers: In gambling you put up money; in buying stocks you put up money. Few know anything about the stocks in which they invest. They buy to make a profit and — in many instances on a tip — without having the slightest knowledge of the company or people back of the stock. This is certainly gambling, as many found out after losing their shirts in the recent Wall Street debacle. We're all gamblers at heart whether we admit it or not.

My husband is a geologist; my grandfather was a gold miner. Both gambled on hitting pay dirt. I prefer their kind of gambling to Wall street or card playing since with it goes for free — plenty of clear, pure mountain air, magnificent scenery, and friendly people.

Dear Helen: Apropos of gambling, the following letter may help wives and sweethearts of compulsive gamblers. Your recent column on gambling appeared when my husband had been gone four days to Reno; wired several people for money; cashed checks with no funds to make them good, and was both gambling and drinking. We are in debt to the bank up to our necks for this spree. But now, thanks to Gamblers Anonymous and Alcoholics Anonymous, my husband is coming up instead of going down. He attends these meetings of his own free will and is a changed man. But believe me, he never would have changed without help from those two groups. After reading about the girl whose boy friend was fast becoming a compulsive gambler, I couldn't resist writing you. —Lived and Learned

Dear Helen: I am, as you so aptly put it, a "wife in name only." During the early years of my married life I sacrificed, slaved and bore children while my husband chased every skirt in town. "How about my stepping out to?" I finally asked him. "There are plenty of men who'll give me a whirl." This infuriated him. His wife was not going that road! "And why shouldn't I follow the same one you're taking?" I demanded. His answer was a bang of the front door.

After he had gone I knew I'd never two-time, if only for the children's sake. Then I picked up the evening paper and happened to read in your column about a woman with a husband like mine who built a new life for herself apart from him. That gave me courage. No more tears for me! I go my way; my husband his. Though together we are far, far apart, and that is sad. But I'm the happier for it and so are the children. Having accepted the situation and realized that my husband will never change, I no longer nag. At least the kids have one parent to set them an example of decent living. —Realist

Dear Realist: You have in a sense taken a self-imposed vow of single blessedness. For a normal, healthy woman this is contrary to nature. Every state in the Union recognizes adultery as grounds for divorce. Religion permitting, divorce is a more realistic answer to your problem.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Divorces, Separations."

Child Drowns in Bath Tub

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Michael David Reynolds, 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds of Beedeville, 15 miles south of Newport, drowned in a bathtub in the front yard of his home Thursday.

Mrs. Reynolds said she was washing clothes in the yard and when she went inside the house to check on one of her other four children, the baby got into the tub.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at a Newport hospital.

Police Seeking the Bare Facts

MEMPHIS (AP) — Several police cars were dispatched to check on the bare facts Thursday night when a nude blonde was reported hitchhiking in the rain.

Asst. Police Chief Lee Quianthy said "The girl got a ride in a truck."

That was the last word police heard on the matter.

University Grant

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A $16,000 grant from the National Science Foundation has been awarded to the University of Arkansas for development of teaching equipment. The grant went to the university's College of Engineering. It will be used by Prof. Denys O. Akhurst to defray costs of developing apparatus to demonstrate theories of electromagnetic waves and fields.

declared the transfers illegal.

Biggerstaff told the subcommittee that Dumas had expected $5 an acre for each acre of cotton allotments in the county transferred to Estes, and that Stone knew this.

Calabrese testified that Estes acquired cotton growing allotments for 328.1 acres in McIntosh County, and that the amount reflected in the Estes books worked out to $1,640.50 at a rate of $5 an acre.

The Freeman-Mundt world battle ranged over many things. Mundt blamed Freeman for a resolution he said had been proposed to the South Dakota Democratic State Convention urging Freeman, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the subcommittee to "reveal any correlation between Mundt's campaign contributions and grain storage allocations, and any relationship to the Billie Sol Estes case."

Mundt challenged the secretary to produce any evidence to back up what Mundt called such Democratic efforts to link his name with "Estes and improper influence."

Freeman made no claim that he had such evidence. But he charged that Mundt was biased. His face flushed and his voice rising, Freeman protested that Mundt had made inflammatory statements last spring attacking Freeman's plans for pulling government grain out of Estes' warehouses. He said Mundt's statement appalled him because he had just visited Mundt's office to promise he would cooperate completely with the subcommittee.

He said Mundt had "prejudged it (Freeman's plan) and read politics into it before the hearings ever opened."

Mundt told the secretary "I repeat what I said—that if Freeman had gone ahead with original plans last spring to devote 18 months to removing the Estes grain—that would put the Department of Agriculture in collusion with a guy on the make."

The senator said he was glad, however, that Freeman since then has announced the job will take only six months.

Freeman acknowledged ordering his staff to search through all correspondence the department had with Curtis and Mundt.

Cabot Wants Bond Suit Dismissed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The city of Cabot has asked that an election suit contesting the vote on three capital improvements bond issues be dismissed.

The city filed an answer to the suit after Circuit Judge W. J. Waggoner permitted it to become a party defendant Monday.

The suit was filed by Harold Mundy, a Cabot plumber, against the Lonoke County Election Commission. The city asked to become a defendant after it appeared the commission did not plan to file an answer to the action.

Mundy's suit alleges that at least 50 illegal votes were cast in the May 15 election which concerned bond issues totaling $60,000.

One issue for city hall improvements was approved by four votes. An issue for street improvements passed by 39 votes and an issue for waterworks improvements by 26 votes.

President in Pep Talk to Career Men

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you can't stand the heat, President Kennedy said, you'd better get out of the kitchen. He said he himself thinks the kitchen is the best place to be.

He was giving a pep talk to the State Department's career men, the Foreign Service officers. There are about 3,700 of them in various department and diplomatic jobs ranging all the way up to that of ambassador.

Kennedy, who likes the word sophisticated and uses it frequently, assured them they're doing a sophisticated job and urged them to bear up under the emotional attacks made of them from time to time.

This kind of assurance would have been more helpful a few years ago than now when they're not under attack.

In the early 1950s Sen. Joseph McCarthy, in his Red hunt, scared the striped pants of the diplomats and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles let McCarthy get away with it.

That got so bad that five older diplomats, protesting in a letter to the New York Times, said Foreign Service officers who made honest and conscientious reports might find their integrity and loyalty challenged.

Fear—where congressional critics are concerned—would still seem to be a dominant force in the State Department which last year published a 430-page history of the diplomatic service and its troubles.

It never mentioned its troubles with McCarthy.

But times have changed and Kennedy—unlike Dulles who acted like a one-man State Department—appealed to the career men to offer new ideas and recommendations in foreign policy.

Kennedy talked to them last May. But it wasn't until this week that the White House made his remarks public.

Historians, at least, seem much happier with our present diplomatic representatives overseas than with those who went abroad in the 19th Century, particularly the early part of it.

Norman A. Graebner, who in 1961 edited a collection of studies on secretaries of state in a book called "An Uncertain Tradition," looked back mournfully at the early diplomats and said:

"Many lacked knowledge; some lacked dignity, although few were as tactless as John Randolph who allegedly commented when presented to the czar in 1830: 'Howaya, emperor? How's the madam?'"

This was the same nimble-tongued Randolph who was credited with saying of Edward Livingston, one of President Jackson's secretaries of state: "He is a man of splendid abilities but utterly corrupt. He shines and slinks like a rotten mackerel by moonlight."

About the best job most career officers can hope for is that of ambassador somewhere. Kennedy told them they're doing pretty well in this field but that a president still has to pick the best man for a given spot.

That was why, he explained, he had to go out into private life to

The engineers said the work would be centered around Moore's Landing, west of Arkansas Post and about eight miles northeast of Gould.

Church Group Meets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — About 20 delegates from nine states were to attend a two-day meeting today and Saturday of the Christian (Disciples of Christ) Missionary Societies in Little Rock. Purpose of the meeting is to plan a 1963 regional consultation conference on leadership development.

find ambassadors for some countries. In some places money counts, too, if only because Congress doesn't vote enough expense money for ambassadors for entertaining.

But Kennedy, like Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, has given between 60 and 70 percent of the ambassadors jobs to State Department career men.

In some key capitals, like Moscow, Bonn and Rome, Kennedy picked career men. In others, like London, Paris and New Delhi, he chose outsiders for special reasons.

Almost all the top jobs in the State Department are filled by men—like Secretary Dean Rusk—whom Kennedy brought in from outside. The highest ranking career man is Hugh Alexis Johnson, deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy flies with his family to Cape Cod, Mass., today to set up summer vacation headquarters at Hyannis Port, Mass.

The Kennedys will stay at the Squaw Island home of former singer Morton Downey, which they will use during the month of July. The Downey home is about a quarter of a mile from the Kennedy compound where the President has a home.

The move to the Downey house is being made for more privacy. Kennedy plans to return to the White House Monday morning, but Mrs. Kennedy and the children will remain.

Plans State Study in Louisiana

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — State Sen. B. H. Rogers of Grand Cane says he plans to introduce a resolution when the Louisiana legislature reconvenes Monday calling for a non-partisan citizens committee to study the current state administration.

Rogers' proposal Thursday came on the heels of a plea from the Metropolitan Crime Commission of New Orleans for a probe of the state administration.

"Are things that bad?" I asked.

MEETING AT THE BRIDGE By STEVE HARBOR

I tested the shop doors along my beat. It was quiet in the early morning hours and still dark.

When I came to the river I saw him in the middle of the bridge. He knew I was coming and he waited for me.

"Are things that bad?" I asked. He looked at me for a moment and then turned his head back to the river. "My old man always expected too much of me," he said. "Right from the beginning."

"Maybe he just hoped for it. Because he wanted it for you." "He was disappointed when I was in high school because I didn't make the football team," he began.

"That's no reason for feeling that he had it in for you," I told him.

"I got through high school," he continued, "and I even went to college. I washed out after one semester. But for one semester he was proud of me."

"That was natural." He fingered the unlit cigarette. "And then came the army and Korea."

"Wasn't he proud of you, then?"

"At the beginning." He seemed to be smiling. "But, I went into the army a private, and I came out of the army a private. I did clerk's work at Division Headquarters. The only shots I heard were on the rifle range."

"No Other Gods"

THOU shalt have no other Gods before me," Exodus 20:3. God said it and God meant every word of it...three friends tell another. The trio of church workers know the imperious need of the personable young man is a love for God and the Church. "Other Gods," have snatched his interests and dominate his life. The way we go and the road we travel make a difference. We are commanded to keep the Sabbath and honor father and mother. We must not murder, hate, lust, steal nor covet. We are commanded to worship the Lord our God, and the church is a wonderful place for that. When God's commandments become our commandments and God's way becomes our way... we'll have "No other Gods before Him."

So They May See == Psalm 84 == So They May Hear

HOW AMIABLE are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts!

2. My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God.

3. Yea, the sparrow hath found an house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even thine altars, O Lord of hosts, my King, and my God.

4. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. Selah.

5. Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee; in whose heart are the ways of them.

6. Who passing through the valley of Baca make it a well; the rain also filleth the pools.

THEY GO FROM strength to strength, every one of them in Zion appeareth before God. 8. O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah.

9. Behold, O God our shield, and look upon the face of thine anointed.

10. For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.

11. For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.

12. O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.
